

May Guidance Lesson Theme:

Citizenship

Lesson focus...

Citizenship can take on the role of many meanings. For the purpose of this lesson, we discussed citizenship in terms of being a helpful member of a community, specifically in regards to understanding how our actions have consequences, that can produce either positive or negative outcomes

Lesson activity...

- ★ When students understand that actions have consequences, they are better able to choose actions that result in positive consequences.
- ★ Students engaged in a game of "Would you rather?" in which they chose between various scenario options that would lead to helpful actions with positive consequences within their communities

Follow-up at home by...

- ★ When reading a story with your child, talk about the actions and consequences of the characters
- ★ Use a visual FIRST X, THEN Y to show your child consequences of his/her actions
- ★ Talk about your family's rules and the positive consequences of following the rules, as well as negative consequences of not following the rules

CITIZENSHIP

Sincerely,
Mrs. Levine, School Counselor
